The improvements are a log dwelling house & other out houses, and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

RICHMOND, Dec. 28.

Virginia Legislature.

Yesterday, Mr. Dade called up in the House of Delegates, the Execution bill, which the select Committee had brought in—Several amendments were proposed.

Mr. Alexander moved to strike out "deeds of trust," so as to let them remain untouched—Lost.

Mr. Stokely (of Wood) moved to introduce "the bank of Marietta in the state of Ohio," as one of those, whose notes might be received—Mr. S. stated that these notes constituted a large portion of the circulating medium of his section of country—Carried.

Mr. McCoy (of Tyler) moved to add "the Union bank of Pennsylvania"—whose notes circulated in the North Eastern Section of the State—Carried.

Mr. Clarke (of Powhatan) proposed to add after the enumeration of the banks, a proviso, that "the court of the county where such sale is about to take place, shall previously have determined such notes to be current in that county"—Mr. C. assigned as the reason of this proposition that it would prevent any notes from being received where they are not current, while it would permit them to be tendered wherever they were current. This amendment was carried.

Mr. Dade proposed to add to the commencing clause, that this act "shall continue in force till the blank day of blank."—Carried.

Mr. Dade also proposed to amend the bill so as to make it the duty of the county courts to declare which of the notes specified were in circulation in their respective counties: Amendment agreed to.

The question was then put on engrossing and reading the bill the third time, which was carried.

Some private and local bills were acted on: about which the reader will in all probability feel little interest.

NEW BANKS.

The bill, which has been introduced in the H. of D. "to establish sundry banks within this Common wealth," will be called up this day. The following is a brief sketch of its principal provisions:

By the first Section, a bank is to be established at Morgantown, county of Monongalia. There shall be appropriated to the use of the state 15 per cent upon the stock of the bank; the residue to be disposed of to the subscribers. Each share to be paid in such coin or money, as the Commissioners shall decide upon—1-10th at the time of subscribing; 1-10th within 60 days thereafter; 1-10th within 60 days thereafter; a which time the bank shall go into operation; and the remaining seven tenths in equal instalments of 60 days, in succession thereafter. The shares of the subscribers to be charged with an equal proportion of the amount of the sum to be retained by the State to be paid to the bank in 30 semi-annual instalments; the first to be paid at the time of the first semi-annual dividend, and so on for every half year's dividend, [so as to absorb the whole debt due by the State in 15 years.] If a stockholder shall at any time be delinquent for the space of days in the payment of any instalment due on his share, such share together with any dividends due thereon, shall be forfeited to the bank. Books of subscription, to be opened on the first day of September next—the books to be kept open until the same shall be completed.

The second Section declares that the shares shall stand for the exclusive benefit of the persons, etc. in whose name they were subscribed; any private bargain in any wise contravening this provision, shall be void.

The third Section endows the subscribers of the bank with all the privileges of a corporation—to have, purchase, receive, etc. lands, rents, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels and effects, to an amount not exceeding three times the amount of their capital, etc. etc.

The fourth Section provides that any number of shares not exceeding one hundred, may be subscribed for in any one day.

The fifth Section provides that there shall be thirteen directors, ten of whom to be elected by the stockholders, and the residue in the mode hereinafter provided. In case of the death, etc. of any director, his place to be filled by a majority of the Directors for the remainder of the year.

The sixth Section provides, as soon as the whole number of shares to be disposed of shall have been subscribed, public notice shall be given; in thirty days from such notice, directors shall be appointed, who shall put the bank into operation, etc.

Seventh Section—The Directors shall appoint such officers, clerks, etc. as may be necessary, allowing them reasonable compensation.

8th Section—defines the fundamental articles of the constitution of the said corporation.—We have not had time to compare them with those of the Farmers' Bank of Virginia, but they seem to us to be nearly the same: The 15th art. provides that the Executive is to be furnished annually with statements of the general situations of the bank and may depute any competent agent to inspect such general accounts in the books as shall relate to the said statement: no private accounts to be injected, etc.

The 9th Sect.—punish any member of this corporation for dealing or trading in buying or selling, any goods, wares or merchandize, or commodities whatsoever contrary to the provisions of this act, &c.

The 10th Sect.—forbids any note being negotiable at bank, unless it be so expressed on its face.

The 11th forbids the issue of any notes for a smaller sum than

The 3 last sections are in the following words:

"And be it further enacted, That for the more effectual protection of the interest of the commonwealth, as a proprietor of the stock of the said bank, there shall be annually appointed three directors thereof, in the manner to be prescribed by law.

"And be it further enacted, That if at any time, the said banks hereby established, or either of them, shall fail or refuse to pay in specie, any note, bill or check justly due from such bank, after the same shall have been presented for payment, within the usual hours for doing business at such bank, the person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, injured by such failure, shall and may obtain judgment and execution for the amount of such bill, note or check, with ten per centum damages thereon and costs, on motion in any court of record, having jurisdiction thereof, upon ten days notice of such motion, to be served in writing upon the cashier, chief clerk, or any director or manager of such bank.

"And be it further enacted, That the banks hereby established, shall, upon any failure to pay specie as aforesaid, be deemed by such failure to have forfeited the charter hereby granted, and the General Assembly may enforce such forfeiture at any time, by directing the Attorney General, or the attorney for the commonwealth in the circuit where such bank may be to prosecute a writ of quo warranto.

The two last sections contain the whole strength of the bill for making the bank a specie paying bank.

There is a large blank in the bill which we presume is intended to fill in with the names of as many banks, predicated on these principles as the Legislature may determine to charter.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 28.

By the Grace Packet, the editors of the New-York Gazette have received Fairmouth papers to the 9th ult. On the subject of the markets, which, at present is the only thing that can interest us, the following extracts are made. [By the bye, the king of England was "tranquil and in good bodily health."]

A London paper states, that "Mr. Pinkney, the American ambassador, arrived at Rome from Naples on the 18th of October, from whence he was to set out on his mission to Petersburg. It is said he has concluded a treaty with Naples, which gives America advantages in the ports of Sicily."

The king of Wirtemberg died on the 30th of October, aged about 55.

The London papers speak of an attempt to snatch Bonaparte from St. Helena.

A French paper says it was the Americans that attempted to release Bonaparte, and that the vessel employed was the Carpenter, fitted out with the knowledge of the government for the purpose.

Parliament was prorogued on the 4th of November to the 2d of January.

A letter of the 3th ultimo mentions, that the Pacific would sail for New York in a few days.

The guards of the kingdom of Wirtemberg, in July, August and September, arrested 2161 individuals, being robbers, vagabonds, beggars and deserters.

The seraglio of the Grand Seigneur of Constantinople, took fire and burnt down on the 6th of September. All his wives 51 in number, narrowly escaped the flames.

The French Chambers were opened on the 4th ultimo.

The king of France in his speech to the new Chambers, says, "tranquillity reigns throughout the Kingdom, and the exact observance of treaties, guarantee to us peace without. To th blessings we enjoy there are annexed real pains. The intemperance of passions, has delayed the harvest: my people suffer, and I suffer more than they do; but I have the consolation of being able to inform you, that the evil is but temporary, and that the produce will be sufficient for the consumption."

A London paper of the 4th ultimo, acknowledges the receipt of New York papers of the 5th, and Boston of the 8th of October.

The corn market in Mark Lane, declined very considerably on Monday, large arrivals of foreign grain have alarmed the great holders, who were in consequence very anxious to effect sales.

We have the satisfaction to learn from intelligent persons who have lately visited the principal corn districts, that the alarms excited by interested speculators of an approaching scarcity, are totally unsupported by the result of the harvest. It is admitted that the quality of the grain this year, is generally inferior to that of more genial seasons; but in point of quantity it rather exceeds than falls short of an average. Operative and experienced men deny not this, & surely their authority is more to be relied on than that of dealers & speculators. No ought we but gratefully to remember that last year gave to us abundance; that importations also filled our granaries, and that considerable stocks are yet on hand.

Advices on Saturday reached Lloyds of the capture, on the 6th ult. off Cadix, of the Cuenca; a Spanish vessel from Havana, by the Potosi privateer from Buenos Ayres, after a sharp action. The Cuenca was laden with colonial produce and 21,000 dols for the Cadiz merchants. The Potosi carried 5 guns, and has a crew of 150 men, all natives of the U. States, with the exception of one Spaniard. The commander is John Chace, of Baltimore. The same person we believe who was recently tried and acquitted in America, on a charge of piracy for having detained one of his own country vessels under the commission he holds from the Buenos Ayres government. The crew and passengers of the Cuenca, 51 in number, were put on board of an American ship, and arrived at St. Ubes on the 9th ult. Several of them were wounded, some dangerously.

A writing box was lately driven on shore near Westport? It has a brass plate on the lid, with "Israel Lakeman" engraved on it. The box contained a number of papers, some bills of exchange, etc. from which it is supposed, that Mr. Lakeman is a merchant of Boston and was on his passage there, and that the vessel in which he was on board, had foundered during the late gale on the West coast of Ireland.

We learn from the passengers, that the exportation of potatoes and pearl barley have been prohibited; and it was daily expected, that the export of corn would also be prohibited. December 31.

The House of Representatives in a committee of the whole yesterday resumed the consideration of the Bill for amending the act of last session authorising compensation for property lost, captured or destroyed. You may remember that two amendments were proposed to it: of these two amendments, that of Mr. Johnson, which purports to enact that the commissioner should still continue to decide on the claims of the sufferers; but that his decisions should be revised by the secretary of the treasury; who should on the next session report them to the house, was debated till about four o'clock without the committee coming to any final decision upon it: The debate however was very interesting, and it was pleasing to see some of the ablest men on both sides, the champions of liberal compensation to the claimants, and prompt to do justice to Mr. Lee. Mr. Clay, the Speaker, was uncommonly animated and forcible, and distinguished himself by the boldness of his animadversions on the committee of claims, and the apathy of the house on the petitions of poor claimants. Mr. Vaney, Mr. Randolph, Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Tucker were in favor of the repeal and throwing the making of future decisions on the House of Representatives thro' its committee of claims: while Mr. Robertson, Mr. Sheffey, Mr. Clay and Mr. Grosvenor, supported Mr. Johnson's amendment. All those who were on Mr. Johnson's side denied the possibility of cases which, like the present claims, were matters of evidence and subjects for the judiciary, being examined fully, and justly decided by a Legislature. The over-argued economy of certain members, and particularly that displayed by the committee of claims in their decisions, was glanced at with much honesty, & polite severity; and the trepidation and alarm occasioned by this business, on the score of the national pulse, was touched upon with some pungency. The whole of the claims, allowing them to be treated with full liberality would not, it was asserted, amount to a million of dollars: and for the paying of this sum to meritorious citizens to whom it was as much owing as if the money had been given out of their pockets, such an alarm had been raised, that one would suppose (said Mr. Johnson) the treasury of the U. States was in danger of being exhausted. Referring upon Mr. R. an expression of his respecting the avidity of the claimants, Mr. Grosvenor said, of the committee of claims that they had decided & dashed the cup from the parched lips of the unhappy sufferers by the war. On the Niagara frontier, (said he) widows have lost their husbands—orphans their fathers—and all lost their property; but the committee rigid in their economy, would fain lock up the treasury and throw the key in the ocean." Mr. Sheffey said that repealing the act, against which no charge had been laid, was no remedy for the errors of the commissioner, against whom alone any fault had been alledged. But if the act were even a bad one, it was better to go on with it, and say candidly that they would rather pay the forfeit of their own tenacity in having made it, than resort to the odious and unjust distinction of giving those who were near to the seat of government the benefit of it and cutting off those at 500 miles distance by an ill-timed appeal. Mr. Clay displayed in glowing colours the injustice of repealing the law, and the impolicy of that perniciousness which could suggest the idea of Congress breaking its word of promise to the claimants. He showed that, compared with the decisions of some of the best judges in the union, those of the commissioner were uncommonly correct, since out of 70 cases on which he had passed judgment, his censurers had been able to select only three that were defective: so that he contended Mr. Lee had not received fair play. He observed, that on the Niagara frontier, the war had for the purpose of drawing off the enemy from the maritime part of the union been made to rage with peculiar fury—the consequence of which was that every house was a garrison, and every individual a soldier. Thus while in the interior the people were secure, those were exposed to the loss of property and life. Who was he that would say that it was not the duty of all the citizens to repair their losses. This was an universally admitted general principle.—Every nation in every case acted up to it, or where they did not, failed only from want of resources. The emperor of Russia after the war visited the sufferers of his empire, to repair their losses.—The British government healed the wounds of the Canadians by benevolence.—The legislature of N. Y. voted $60,000 dollars for the relief of the sufferers in that state, and he hoped that that house would not deserve the cold hearted character assigned them by a certain state legislature, by repealing their own act of benevolence. He then ridiculed with some asperity the idea of leaving the claimants to such redress, by petitions to that house. They might petition, and might go unredressed—he said, for he had witnessed petition upon petition rejected by the committee of claims, and when the unfavorable report came before the house, found no one to make an obsequious nod to them. Not a solitary Aye or No ever was uttered on the subject: "Yes (said he) we do not want competency! the claimants no doubt have a right to petition or, in other words, a right to have their claims rejected. He concluded with an assertion that the house was bound in honor, duty, and policy not to repeal the act.

SALEM, Dec. 24.

Captain Israel Williams, of this town, arrived here on Saturday last, from St. Pierre, Mart. via the Vineyard, passenger in the brig Swift, Captain Story, of Boston. Capt. W. States, that the sickness still raged with great mortality at Martinico; and the accounts from Guadalupe were all of a still more melancholy nature, many vessels both American and French; at the latter place, being totally deprived of every man of their crews.

The information lately received from the southward, said to be from the Spanish Maine is incorrect. A late as the date of the letter from St. Thomas's giving the news referred to above. Laguna and Caracas were still in the hands of the Royalists, say 14th or 15th November.

The defeat of Gen. Bolivar some time since was not so disastrous as was at first represented. Sir Gregory M'Gregor, arrived at Ocumana Bay, from Mar. garitta, with a reinforcement of 300 men, just in time, the day of the action, to rescue a part of Bolivar's forces.—On the landing of M'G. he met Bolivar, with a few officers endeavouring to escape—demanded where he was going—and was answered, that his little army was totally defeated, and would all be cut to pieces; and could not be prevailed upon M'G. but escaped in a small schooner to Bonarie.

M'G. finding Bolivar panic struck, assumed the command, and marched to the relief of the retreating Patriots, whom he rallied and restored the battle, and in turn defeated the Royalists, who were obliged to retreat with a very great loss.

M'Gregor's force being small, and the little fleet gone from the alarm created by the defeat, he had no resource left but to dash into the interior where he was sure of plenty of provisions & adherents, his next exploit the fore was a march through the country, and the capture of the town of Barcelona.

At the last accounts M'G. had organized a force of 6000 troops, and with the assistance of several English, French and American officers had pretty well disciplined them: and it was supposed he had taken Cumana, from the circumstance of the governor and his family, and other families having arrived in a small craft at Laguna about the 14th Nov. but it was not allowed to be made publicly known.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near Salem, Fauquier County, Virginia, on the 16th inst. EPHRAIM and POLLY, who I am satisfied are endeavoring to escape to Pennsylvania.—Ephraim is a stout likely fellow, 16 years of age, about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, dark complexion but not black, long luscious nose, prominent under lip & has one or two scars on his right leg, cut with a scythe in cradling—He is a good wagoner, ploughman and coarse shoemaker, chews tobacco and is very fond of spirits—his clothes are not recollected, except a striped country cloth coat and a new great coat of dark drab country cloth lined, with a large cape and the collar lined with blue rabbit's fur.

Polly is a very handsome bright mulatto, about 18 years old, a full oval face and a fine set of teeth. She is very fond of dress and keeps her hair always neatly combed—Polly is an excellent weaver, spinner and washer. #### The Life of Patrick Henry

PROPOSAL

By James Webster, of Philadelphia, for publishing By Subscription, THE LIFE OF

The late Patrick Henry.

Containing many of his Speeches, &c. (Embellished with a Likeness: By Wm. Wirt, Esq. of Richmond. (Va.) Extract from the Port folio for August, 1815.

"It is not without a sentiment of sincere gratification that we witness, in the following proposal, arrangements making by a competent hand, to do justice to the character of one of the most worthy and distinguished of our countrymen. As a statesman, a civilian, an orator and a patriot, Patrick Henry was entitled to stand in the foremost rank: Nor do his merits claim an inferior station as a firm, an honest, and an honorable man. He was one of those worthies on whose purity suspicion could never fix a stain.

"If we are disposed to look at Mr. Henry's character while living, accident has not been wanting in its favors to his posthumous fame: for to have found such a biographer as Mr. Wirt, so competent as a writer, and so peculiarly well qualified in every moral relation, is not the least fortunate incident in his history.

"In Mr. Wirt's Life of Patrick Henry we are irresistibly impelled to expect much: the materials being excellent, and in great abundance. And the writer able and devoted to his subject. Nor do we think that the public will run any risk of being disappointed by bearing us company in our high expectations. We hope, and, indeed, have no doubt, that the work will receive a liberal patronage."

CONDITIONS.

The work will be printed on a fine paper, in one octavo volume, and will contain from 550 to 400 pages.

It will be delivered to subscribers, in good call binding, at three dollars per copy. The price to non-subscribers will be three dollars and fifty cents.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,
Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY
Of the following genuine Medicines.
For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or looseness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Terebra, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small may-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face oated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of chint—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hands of the infant part of our citizens it likewise the mildest and most cer tain remedy known, and has restored to its full strength a great number, when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases. Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, asthmatic cough, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, &c.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health; yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.
